Zoltan Zavargo
As planned in the Application the newly developed courses were held at all partner universities. The number of participants (trainees) was much more than originally planned in the Application. Teachers exchange between WB partner countries was completed. In this way at each PC universities lectures were done by teachers from all WB partner country universities.
Conclusions
The reports on held courses should be done in the same manner. The evaluation of the courses should be done on the common criteria.
In the report the web site of the project address should be underlined.
Recommendations
Occasionally newsletters should be proceed to audit reminding them about the courses that have been conducted as well as to informing them on the courses that are planned to be held in the near future (together with the evaluation of courses that were conducted).

Adam Pawelczyk

Gyula Vatai

Short report was presented. Complete written report will be ready next week.

Suggestion for the future cooperation between WB partner universities: Use the benefits of CEEPUS program to exchange teachers between universities that are involved in this project

Written material evaluation

- First 6 chapters of the teaching material (the first book) are complete;
- All other chapters should be finished in the same manner;
- All the other books, except the first one, have no ecological dictionary
- Citation of references is not well shown
- Chapter Pharmaceutical and Cosmetics industry: introduction overlaps with the first book; the last 15 pages are very different from the rest of the book
- Chemical engineering chapter needs to be reduced

Decisions

Each course should have an ECTS file.

Chapter Material engineering should have a short translation to Serbian language.

Remarks on the teaching written material may be done directly on the web site by adding notes to PDF-s documents that were distributed on CD to each partner.
